What makes a difference?

"What's the difference" between Garrett High School and any other school? Here you'll find students, staff, sports, clubs, and classes, same as anywhere.

Staff here provides "A personal touch." Because of the small size, students find it easier to communicate and become closer to the staff. Students are "Not just another face." They are recognized for their achievements.

In sports, "We never say never." Fans support our athletic teams through both victory and defeat. Whether it be sports or clubs, Garrett students are involved. Where there's action, "We're a part of it."

Academically, GHS has "A touch of class."

"Community closeup" is an important part of Garrett High School. Businesses support our school by purchasing ads for the Aeolian and Signal, and decorating store windows during spirit week.

In everything we do, GHS pride and tradition shows, and students can say, "Just look at us now!"

Pageant dreams come true

Each contestant had a dream and each one worked during the summer to make the dream come true. At the 25th annual Miss Garrett pageant the dream came true for many.

It was standing room only in J.E. Ober Auditorium as Lori Williams, sponsored by Garrett Chamber of Commerce, was crowned Miss Garrett 1986 by Kathy Hixson, 1985 winner.

Teresa Smith was presented the first runner-up award.

She was sponsored by the Garrett Historical Society. Both Teresa and Lori represented Garrett in the Miss DeKalb pageant.

Dixie Helmick presented Mary Bock the evening gown award. Mary wore a royal blue with black polka-dot gown. She was sponsored by the VFW.

Kacy Shafer won the swimsuit award in a lavender suit. This award was presented by Holly Hixson, past winner.

Talent winner was Nina

Sowles, who sang selections from "Wiz." She was sponsored by Krus Realty and Auctioneering.

Mr. Bob Novy was master of ceremonies, and sophomore Ed Placiencia entertained the crowd with jokes during the tense moments of waiting.

Dreams came true for several while others shed tears. "But everyone came out a winner," stated participant Jennifer Wolf.

GHS represented at Fair

DeKalb County Fair Week involved many GHS students in activities such as 4-H exhibitions, parades, choir competitions, and Miss DeKalb County Pageant.

Pom squad and band members marched in the Good Fellowship, Queen's, and Grand Finale Parades.

Lori Williams, Miss Garrett, and Teresa Smith, first runner-up, were contestants in the 1986 Miss DeKalb County Pageant.

Garrett Campus Life members supported Lori and Teresa in the Queen's parade by riding in a support car behind the contestants. Teresa, who received the talent award, said, "I think it was a good experience for everyone involved."

More than 30 students showed livestock for 4-H. "I learned the responsibility of taking care of something that was my own to make a profit," commented sophomore Ron Sarrazine.

Beth Lemper stated, "I got the opportunity to judge sheep, hogs, and cattle, and to buy, raise and sell my livestock at a profit."

Rain changes homecoming

Admiring the winning senior class Corvette, students wish for shelter from the rain.

Students sat in classrooms watching the rain trickle down windows as they had so many times before, but today was different. This was the BIG homecoming game against Central Noble.

The P.A. boomed throughout the building, "The following homecoming candidates please report to room 28: freshmen Chad Davis, Nichole Myers, Buddy Gunion, Tonya Lampe, sophomores Kirk Bloomquist, Amy Simon, Brett Cramer, Shelly Lantz, juniors Mark Claxton, Kelly Lampe, Lance Baughman, Tammy Bodey, seniors Doug Weaver, Kacy Shafer, Todd Warstler, and Mary Kay Feagler." As the students arrived, Mr. Paul Johnston, student council advisor, began to discuss activities which were being revised because of rain.

With the anticipation of a victory, students headed home at the ring of the bell.

Fans gathered at the game bundled in raincoats. The crowd yelled, rain poured, and the game began. In spite of the team's effort and the crowd's encouragement when the buzzer sounded for the game to end, the score was still tied at 0-0.

Shortly after overtime began Central Noble made a fourth down field goal attempt bringing the score to 0-3. On Garrett's fourth down a desperate pass from senior Andy German found junior wide receiver Brian Cook for the winning edge 6-3.

Happy Railroader fans and players journeyed to the homecoming dance sponsored by Student Council at Ober auditorium. Pre-dance ceremonies featured the crowning of seniors Todd Warstler and Mary Kay Feagler as 1986 football homecoming queen and king. Student Council secretary Jennifer Wolf, presented the class of 1987 the best decorated car trophy for the fourth consecutive year, a school record. At the end of the award ceremonies, dancing began with music by Craig Hutton.

Large crowd attends OEA Semi-formal

What's the difference in this year's semi-formal? A larger than ever crowd of 100 couples filled Ober auditorium for OEA's semi-formal, "This Night Could Be Like No Other Night", Nov. 15.

Members of OEA, under the direction of new advisor Mrs. Mary Wolf, decorated the auditorium in blue and silver Friday afternoon and Saturday morning and then hurried home to get ready for the evening's activities.

Once at the semi-formal couples danced to music provided by Craig Hutton.

At 9:30 Sally Hile, OEA treasurer, introduced the semi-formal Queen's Court composed of seniors Amy Baker, Mary Bock, Kay Lynn Elliott, Mary Kay Feagler, Marcie Heal, Cathy Helbert, Margie Maynard, Kris Miller, Tamra Ordway, Kasey Oster, Nina Sowles, and Jennifer Wolf.

"And the winner is, Miss Cathy Helbert," declared Sally. Cathy received a crown and flowers.

Mr. Barrie Fleetwood took pictures of couples in front of scene provided by Garrett Greenhouse. Refreshments were also served.

—Bobbie Coyer

Smiling proudly, OEA semi-formal Queen Cathy Helbert displays her crown and bouquet.

Sophomores Jenifer Binz and Michael Taube and senior Rex Wilcoxson relax between slow dances.

While dancing, couples ease into the romantic mood at the semi-formal.

OEA semi-formal queen candidates nervously await Sally Hile's announcement of the winner.

roaders' win over Angola, GHS

New homecoming includes players

"Take a Walk on the Wildside" was the theme for basketball homecoming, 1987. At halftime the 10 seniors in the court waited as Teresa Wiant, Student Council treasurer, announced King and Queen Todd Steward and Jennifer Wolf. Jennifer received crown and roses, and stand-in Tim Firks accepted a plaque for Todd, who was a member of the varsity basketball team.

Homecoming underwent a change in 1987. Basketball players were eligible for the court.

Other candidates included

Jim Brown, Renna Matthews, Dave Talley, Lori Kobiela, Derek Robbins, Kris Miller, Rich Wisel, and Mary Bock.

The evening's celebration was complete with a 71-60 Railroader victory over Angola's Hornets.

Student Council members spent more than five hours decorating the gymnasium in blue and silver for the event. Bobbie Coyer, Student Council representative, commented, "It was fun for my first year in Student Council, but we hung an awful lot of feet."

Being new easier than expected

Garrett's Campus Life chapter has a new face. He is 23-year-old Mike Slack. He was chosen to replace Eric Muzzillo, who left Campus Life in 1986.

Mike is from Angola and works as an orderly at Cameron Hospital in Angola. Some of Mike's favorites are basketball, swimming, traveling, Christian rock sounds of De Garmo and Key, pizza and the color red. He also attends classes at Fort Wayne Bible College.

When asked how it felt to be the "new kid on the block," Mike revealed, "At first, I was a bit apprehensive about coming to a school where I didn't know any of the kids. I was afraid that the students would be reluctant to accept someone new coming in. My fears were taken away as I got to know some of the students involved in Campus Life. I now feel like Garrett has accepted me for who I am, and I've gotten to know a lot of the students pretty well."

He was also happy with the turnout at weekly meetings. He stated, "The club has really grown this year." There was an average of 45 persons each week which is a large increase from last year's group.

Campus Life is a lot of fun, but there is also a spiritual side. Said Mike, "The response to the message that Campus Life tries to bring out has been fantastic. I'm very happy with the way things turned out this yer."

Little 500 enjoys perfect weather

It was a warm and sunny afternoon on Friday, May 8, as students sat in class watching the clock tick by.

At last, one o'clock arrived, and Mr. Gaylord Toll announced that students were to be dismissed. Little 500 had begun.

Students crowded around the track and parking lot to participate in or just observe traditional Little 500 events. Among the most popular activities were tug-of-war, softball, powder puff football and, of course, the Little 500 race.

High school clubs earned money by selling concessions alongside the football field.

Winding up the afternoon, junior Tammy Bodey, elected by GHS students with penny votes, won the "honors" of kissing the pig.

Little 500 dance was staged that evening in J.E. Ober auditorium, where the junior class took first place in a lip synch contest.

"Hold on to Your Dreams" was the theme for the 1987 junior-senior prom May 16 at the new Garrett Country Club. Approximately 75 couples danced to music by "Cry Wolf".

At 10:30 p.m. Mr. Mark Ober, junior class sponsor, announced Tom O'Connor and Deb Smurr as king and queen. Tom accepted a plaque from Jennifer Wolf, last year's queen, and Deb received a crown, roses, and a kiss of congratulations from Todd Steward, 1986 prom king. The royal couple danced to the theme song, "Dream On" by Aerosmith. Others on the prom court included Sally Hile, Kelly Lampe, Dyane Quinn, Lance Baughman, Butch Johnson, and Matt Warstler.

Theme colors were peach and black. Sophomores served cake and punch, and pictures of couples were taken by Etter Studio.

Robin Clauss, junior class president, as hostess welcomed everyone to the prom as the evening began.

GHS awards 114 diplomas

As the high school band under the direction of Mr. Paul Marlow played "Pomp and Circumstance," junior class president Robin Clauss and vice-president Sally Hile led the procession for Garrett High School's 103rd commencement ceremony.

The program began with the invocation by senior Kimberly Leeper, followed by senior class president James Brown welcoming parents, faculty, and students.

Under the direction of Mr. Gary Gerke, the GHS choirs performed two songs, "Go With a Song in Your Heart" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Valedictorian Teresa Smith centered her address on a seminar she attended in eighth grade. The theme of the seminar was "If it is to be, then it's up to me." Teresa said, "We as individuals possess the ability and opportunity to create a better world around us, and we must take hold of that challenge.

"As we strive to achieve the goals we set for ourselves, there may be many obstacles that we will experience and we must conquer. Not all will be successful. But even if the solution is invalid, the learning process will be beneficial.

"As we leave these familiar walls, adults or not, we will be faced with the adult world. We must now close one book of our lives and open another. I challenge each of you to find inscribed on the inside cover of your new book, "If it is to be, then it is up to me."

Principal Gayord N. Toll presented the class of 1987 to Superintendent Kermit D. Weddell, who awarded diplomas to 114 graduates.

Benediction was given by senior Jennifer Wolf, followed by the recessional played by the GHS band.

—Julie Wells

With congratulations from Principal Gaylord Toll, Staci Stafford accepts the Sigma Phi Gamma scholarship.

Joining Mrs. Suzon Baker on stage, Amy Baker receives a National Honor Society scholarship.

Congratulating Todd Warstler, Mr. George Pearson, senior counselor, presents him a $1500 scholarship from an anonymous donor.

Acknowledging their service to GHS, Mr. Paul Johnston awards Student Council certificates to Doug Weaver, Renna Matthews, Julie DePew, Amy Baker, Jennifer Wolf, and Kacy Shafer.

We Never

Say Never

Closely tailed by a Central Noble player, senior quarterback Andy German charges forward with the ball.

Striding through the GHS parking lot portion of the home cross country course, senior Mike Kappel advances in front of an Eastside runner.

Catching a pass, junior end Todd Sattison moves forward for a short gain before being tackled by Central Noble defender.

Rounding the corner, senior Doug Weaver outdistances an opponent in a dual home meet against Prairie Heights and Eastside.

Hard work brings victories

Eight-year cross country coach Mr. Bob Novy felt that a better attitude helped his team complete a 4-10 season. Coach Novy believes that cross country is an individual sport which requires each runner's effort and determination.

Sophomore Kirk Bloomquist stated, "Cross country is a challenging sport; it takes great discipline to be successful."

Eric Baker commented, "More practice over the summer and on the weekends as a team would make us more competitive."

Senior Doug Weaver, who made the first All-NECC squad, was GHS team captain because of his knowledge of the sport.

Prospects for next year's team include sophomores Kirk Bloomquist, Mike Taube, and Scott Lilly, and freshmen Dino Marti and Eric Baker.

A positive attitude and strong effort led the Railroader football team to a victorious 5-4 season. Coach Rick Kirkton commented, "I'm very proud of everyone. Much effort was put forth."

"It took a lot of hard work and dedication, but it all paid off because we ended up with a winning season," stated defensive end Rick Wagner.

Kevin Campbell was honored as most valuable player and Derek Robbins received the most improved player award. Rich Wisel was recognized for having the best mental attitude. Seniors Campbell, Wisel, and Jim Brown were elected by teammates as honorary tri-captains.

Mr. Kirkton concluded, "Students and athletes have a lot of potential and with total effort they can do what they want."

Steward, DePew lead Railroaders

"Our win-loss record was not as good as we may have hoped, but we felt that the players played up to, and at times beyond, their potential," commented varsity basketball Coach Dennis Feagler about Garrett's 7-13 record for the 1986-87 season.

Railroader Todd Steward led the team in points with 249 and also in rebounds with Butch Johnson providing the most assists. Steward was elected MVP and made All-Conference first team, while Doug Weaver earned honorable mention.

When asked about a highlight of the season, Coach Feagler mentioned the Columbia City game. He explained, "They were a much quicker team than we were and physically larger, but Garrett had the greater desire to hold on and win in that game."

Lady Railroader varsity volleyball players completed their season with an 8-19 record.

Julie DePew led the team in digs with 114. She was chosen MVP and was named NECC All-Conference first team. Bridget Creager scored the most kills and blocks with 117 and 42 respectively. She also received NECC All-Conference honorable mention.

Coach Cheryl Peters remarked, "The team played inconsistently at times. When we learn to be consistent in the fundamentals, we'll be a very strong team."

Wrestlers attain best record ever

"This year we posted the best record in Garrett wrestling history!" head coach Jim Slain exclaimed.

Garrett's wrestling team compiled a 15-6-1 record, won the Westview Invitational, had 3 conference runner-ups, and sent one wrestler to the Carroll regional February 7.

Derek Robbins was the lone regional qualifier for Garrett. Derek earned his trip to the regional by placing second at the Carroll sectional January 31. Derek also finished second in NECC tournament at Fremont. He wrestled to a 15-10 record, earned all-conference honorable mention, and won the Carson Culler Most Valuable Wrestler award.

Four other wrestlers placed in tournaments and received awards during the season. Senior C.J. Stoltie placed second at conference, third at sectional, earned all-conference honorable mention, and all-area honorable mention. Senior Kevin Campbell placed third at conference and third at sectional. Sophomore Brian Johnson placed second at conference, made all-conference honorable mention and all-area honorable mention. Sophomore Chris Hedges placed third at conference and fourth at sectional.

Coach Slain stated, "As a team we did not do as well in tournament competition as I had expected, but I was pleased with the way we wrestled throughout the season."

Now you see it . . . now you don't seemed to describe the 1986-87 varsity girls' basketball season. "We started out really well in the first half but had a lack of concentration in the second half," coach Rockey Pressler stated.

Varsity finished with a 7-11 overall record and tied for third in NECC conference with Hamilton.

"We played to our potential but often went up against what was considered the best team in their school's history," commented Mr. Pressler.

Highlights of the season included junior Bridget Creager and senior Julie DePew being named to NECC all-conference basketball team.

Coach Pressler, who recorded his 100th career win at Garrett, said, "I really enjoy coaching basketball and am looking forward to next year."

Bodey competes in track finals

"A step behind" seemed to describe varsity girls' track season. Even though they had a 6-7 record and placed seventh in the conference meet at Fairfield, there was still more to the story.

Taking up the slack was Tammy Bodey breaking her own records. Tammy broke records and qualified for Fort Wayne Sectional in the 800 and 1600. Her 800 record was 2:38.3 but this didn't get her out of sectional. However, in the 1600 she placed second in the sectional and fourth in the regional earning a ticket to the State Finals.

Nichole Myers leaped to a new record of 16'2.5" in the long jump. Nicole Summers broke the shot put record with a throw of 34'11.5". Julia Entwisle set the pace with a 13:37.6 in the 2-mile run.

"A step ahead" was the key to the varsity boys' track season. They compiled a 9-4 season topped off with a fifth place finish in the NECC meet.

"Much improvement was shown this year and we're only losing four seniors so we should be tough next year," coach Joe Mahnesmith exclaimed.

Boys' sectional contenders included Mike Maurer, shot and disc; Dave Boltz, long jump; Richard Taube in shot; Doug Weaver and Eric Baker, 3200; Alan Woehnker, 300 hurdles; and Dean Weimer, 800. Although all did well, none went on to regional.

GHS golf teams strengthen record

GHS golfers finished their season with a varsity record of 13 and a reserve record of 4, showing an improvement over the last two years of competition.

Senior Rex Wilcoxson received the Carson Culler Most Valuable Player award and led the squad with a 44.7 nine-hole average. Rex was followed by Troy Gibson and Dan Weimer, each with a 45.2 average and Jon Langfeldt and Joel Haynes with 47.5. Other averages were Dave Talley, 47.8; Todd Ely, 47.9; Clay Beber, 48.3; Don Stone, 48.1; and Jeff Snyder, 63.

Closest varsity win of the season came over West Noble, 159-160. Railroaders also scored victories over Leo, Hamilton, Westview, and Blackhawk Christian.

They participated in two invitationals, Wawasee and Angola, and placed 15th and 11th respectively. They took fourth place in the NECC Tournament and 16th in the sectional.

Varsity letters were awarded to Rex Wilcoxson, Troy Gibson, Dan Weimer, Jon Langfeldt, Joel Haynes and Dave Talley. Reserve letter winners were Todd Ely, Clay Beber, Don Stone and Jeff Snyder.

Wisel leads team in runs scored

Railroader baseball team ended their season 10-16. This season also marked the end of a 10-year coaching and teaching career at GHS for Mr. Steven Stocker, who resigned at the close of the baseball season.

Leading the team in hitting were senior Rich Wisel with five home runs, and junior Butch Johnson with three. Wisel also had the most runs scored with 19. Erik Jacobs and Mike Utermark tied with 14 each.

Lady Railroaders had an impressive first softball season with a 13-5 record.

Sophomores Stacey Rockey and Jill Engel, and freshman Danielle Solga each had one home run. Solga also led the team in triples with four and runs scored with 35.

Clinic attracts 56

Varsity and JV cheerleaders conducted a cheerleading clinic for elementary girls Feb. 10-12. The 12 most spirited participants performed with varsity cheerleaders Feb. 20 at the final home basketball game. Certificates and ribbons were presented to the 56 girls who completed the clinic.

Rooting for the girls' basketball team and having Mrs. Becky Blotkamp as sponsor were other new experiences for cheerleaders in 1986-87.

Besides supporting teams throughout the school year, cheerleaders attended a one-day clinic at Ball State University Oct. 25. They came home with several new chants, cheers, and a sideline dance to entertain Garrett basketball fans.

Sponsoring a car wash and candy sales gave the varsity cheerleaders the opportunity to purchase new uniforms.

Thespians stage fall play, musical

GHS Thespians gave their production of The Adventures of Tom Sawyer, a three-act play by Charles George, November 7 and 8 in the Ober auditorium.

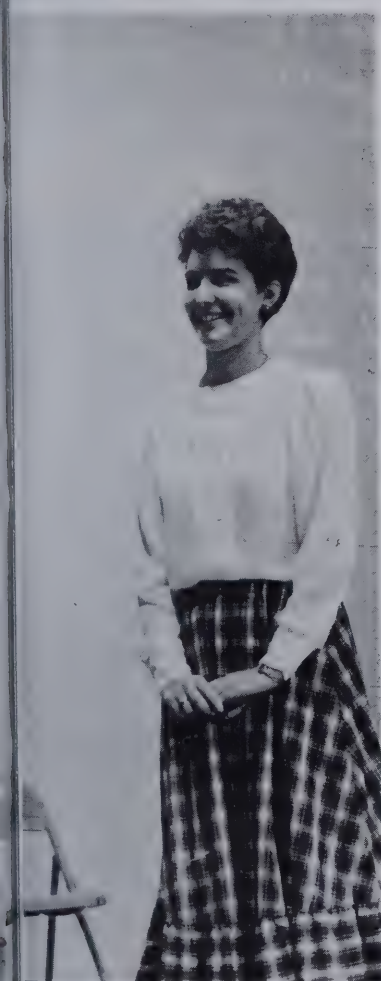

Director Miss Linda Buttell commented, "It's a comedy, a classic, and I feel something the students were interested in." She continued, "The cast was the best I've worked with in years. However, a problem was getting everyone to practices due to scheduling conflicts."

March 20 and 21 Thespians presented Carnival, the spring musical, at 7:30 p.m. in the Ober auditorium.

Speech team competed with other schools for the first time in years. Under the direction of Miss Linda Buttell, the team met at the school at 6 o'clock in the morning on Saturdays to travel to speech meets. "The team was dedicated, and I was proud of them. The meets were fun, and a great way to meet people," Miss Buttell said.

Poms, Pep Club support athletes

Sidetracker pom pon squad started out the season with tryouts in March. The 14-member squad selected seniors Mary Bock and Jennifer Wolf as co-captains.

A car wash, dunk tank, watermelon booth, and a raffle helped pay for the squad's trip to pom camp at Valparaiso in July.

Pom pon clinic for elementary girls was held in November. The squad picked 14 girls to dance with them at the first home basketball game of the season. They performed "Twist and Shout."

In addition to their half-time performances, the squad marched with the band at the DeKalb County fair and did roll-offs during basketball homecoming ceremonies.

Pep Club, under the direction of first-year sponsor Pat Blotkamp, showed spirit by remaining after school on Thursday afternoons to make banners and signs for the following evening's varsity games.

Pep Club sponsored football spirit week and basketball parents' night.

Leading Pep Club were Bobbie Coyer, president; Holly Lantz, vice-president; Kelly Lampe, secretary; and Amy Simon, treasurer.

Raillettes began their year at the football jamboree in late August. The girls sold concessions and took tickets for athletic events during fall and winter sports.

In March, Raillette sponsor and athletic director John Hutton treated the girls to dinner at the Moonraker in Fort Wayne.

Sophomore Tina Carlin stated, "I enjoyed being a part of Raillettes; it gives you a chance to meet people."

Student council officers attend national convention

President Kacy Shafer and advisor Paul Johnston led student council through a fun-filled and busy year.

State Convention at East Noble added yet another activity to student council's already packed schedule of football and basketball homecomings, flower and candy sales, Christmas Bureau food drive and Little 500.

Future president Tammy Bodey, vice-president Teresa Wiant, and secretary Heidi Knott were chosen to attend the 51st annual National Convention at Buffalo, New York. Some of the highlights were going to Darien Lake, an amusement park, and to Niagara Falls and also listening to speakers Peter Jennings, ABC anchorman, and Edwin Meese, U.S. Attorney General.

National Honor Society kicked off a busy year with its initiation. Twenty-six new members were inducted Nov. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in Ober Auditorium. Initiates' first duty was cooking and serving the Teacher Appreciation Breakfast. Headstart children were entertained by NHS members dressed as elves and Santa for the annual Christmas party. NHS's next project was the bowl-a-thon for the Special Olympics. Bowlers went throughout the community and collected pledges for their scores. Last NHS project of the year was selling pop at Little 500.

New members take turns reading parts of the Spanish Honor Society initiation ceremony.

Many fund raisers boost Spanish Club

New members of Spanish Club were initiated at the beginning of the 1986-87 school year by donning orange beaks, squatting, and waddling down the hallways while quacking like ducks during activity period.

Many club fund raisers included a bake sale, PTCO carnival booth, and sale of suckers imported from Spain.

Spanish club was led by Mark Claxton, president; Julie Wells, vice-president; Jay Lepley, secretary; and Jamie Witherspoon, treasurer.

To bid farewell to another "bueno ano," members held their year-end dinner at Bandidos restaurant in Fort Wayne.

After a year of inactivity because no students were eligible for membership, Spanish Honor Society returned in 1986-87 with seven initiates. They were inducted in a candlelight ceremony. Diane Sarrazine was club president and Butch Johnson served as secretary-treasurer.

Y-Teens staged their annual Morp April 11. In traditional sock hop fashion, shoe-less couples danced to the recorded music of Y-Teens member Bridget Creager. For this backwards Prom, the ladies asked the gentlemen. Most couples began the evening by dining at an "elegant" fast food restaurant (usually McDonalds).

Junior Todd Ely and senior Amy Baker were crowned Morp king and queen. Polaroid pictures were taken of couples in front of a graffiti background.

Y-Teens officers were Cathy Helbert, president (first semester); Bridget Creager, president (second semester); Rachelle Lewis, vice-president; and Mary Bock, treasurer.

OEA fund-raisers send six to Indy

Candy sales, semi-formal, and Superstars were main money-makers for OEA to help finance their trip to Indy for the 20th annual OEA state leadership conference March 20-22. Members attending were Sandy Baker, Robin Clauss, Marcie Heal, Cathy Helbert, Sally Hile and Lisa Woehnker. Mrs. Mary Wolf, OEA advisor chaperoned the group. These GHS representatives were a part of 2,000 people involved in the conference.

Art Club took a field trip in January to the Fort Wayne Museum of Art, to view the permanent collection as well as the Scholastic Art Show. Seniors Alan Woehnker and Kevin Campbell were among high school artists chosen to exhibit projects in this show. In addition, Kevin won national recognition for his wheel-thrown soup terrine. In May Alan sold his untitled acrylic painting to the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel for $250. Art Club also sponsored the annual Garrett High School Art Show in May and sold curly fries at Little 500.

Members of Boys' FCA once again showed the caring spirit by conducting a penny toss for the Garrett Christmas Bureau at two home basketball games in December.

Girls' FCA members treated themselves to a pizza party in December and in May met after school in the Media Center to discuss the rewards and frustrations of women athletes with Miss Diane Thomas, a counselor, former college coach and organizer of the annual "Run, Jane, Run" softball tourney in Fort Wayne.

Judging teams score well

"I'm looking for more social and recreational activities for 1987," stated Mr. Andy Giegold, sponsor of Future Farmers of America. And this club certainly kept busy this year, conducting their annual ice cream social in September and flying to Richmond, VA, to compete in the Eastern National Livestock Judging Contest. As a group, they placed second in beef, fifth in sheep, and fourth overall. Individually, Sam Malcolm placed seventh overall.

FFA celebrated Christmas with a party and went skiing at Swiss Valley. Judging season began in February at Clinton Central in Michigantown and ended successfully in June with the GHS judging team finishing first in county and area competitions and placing fourth in the state elimination at Purdue, where eighth grader Tim Lemper placed first among 160 competitors. In April, FFA planted crops and built a playground for Tri Kappa.

June brought with it the State FFA Convention at Purdue University and a summer trip to Delaney Park in Salem, IN. In July members attended the State FFA Leadership Camp, and in August they participated in the State Fair.

Aeolian/Signal staff was the largest it has been in years. Twenty-four students participated first semester and 18 second semester.

Staff members published five issues of the Signal. Among new features were personal ads and "Senior Life" and "Beat the Bookie" columns.

With the comfort of adequate funds resulting from strong ad sales and prepaid selling of more than 400 yearbooks, a new Nikon Tele-Touch camera was purchased by the student publications fund.

Frustration in producing both a newspaper and yearbook frequently surfaced among staff members when computers, printers, and disks failed to cooperate, most often at deadline time.

Returning staffers look forward to the purchase of two Apple IIe computers, an Imagewriter printer, and a phone modem for school-to-publisher transmission of yearbook copy. This equipment will be purchased by the school corporation for use in the journalism and language arts program next year.

Future Homemakers of America sponsored a dance and the dunk tank at the Little 500 and cooked a breakfast for the girls' basketball team. Members also sponsored a Halloween party for Head Start and represented GHS at county and state FHA meetings.

Four students, accompanied by Mrs. Barbara Olin, attended the state meeting April 10-11 in Indianapolis. Students entered a competition there called proficiency events. These were contests in which students displayed their skills in various home-making areas. Kim Langer competed in the Clothing Construction event, Toni Weller entered the Cooking for Children event, and Tracey Kinney competed in the Storytelling for Children event.

Contributing to the discussion, FFA member Sean Nofzinger gestures while making his point during an activity period club meeting.

SADD members stage victim day

SADD's 180 members were led by officers Jodi Porter, president; Chris Hedges, secretary; and Robin Neeley, treasurer.

T-shirt sales and the traditional helium balloon booth at Little 500 helped provide funds for SADD.

SADD was a participant in Operation Prom-Graduation, and sponsored a "victim day" in which members wore a black armband to symbolize a person dying every 20 minutes in the United States in an alcohol related accident.

For the first year, there was a junior high SADD. Mrs. Rosemary McConnell, SADD sponsor, explained, "Junior high students showed an interest in having their own SADD group. Though these students do not drive, they are passengers."

Auto Club started the year with an overnigher in January.

The eighteen members elected president Todd Richmond, vice-president Ted Custer, treasurer Steve Fry, and secretary Ryan Peters.

Once again, the club made available the car demolition booth at Little 500.

To finish out the year, Auto Club had a weekend overnigher at Chain-o-Lakes state park.

Bar-B-Q Dude Ranch, written by Peter Williams, was presented by Junior High Drama Club February 28 and March 1.

The action of the play took place in the living room of a dude ranch in the Rocky Mountains. The main plot introduced Charolette Pelham and Lil Bower, who had inherited the ranch from an uncle.

Jonelle Coyer, cast member, commented, "This was the first play I had been in, and it was fun. All of the cast members did a good job of covering for others' mistakes."

Miss Linda Buttell, director, said, "I feel the play went very well. The kids did an excellent job in creating the set, and I was happy with their acting ability as well."

Junior high drama also helped high school Thespians in the planning of a dance.

Looking cheerful, eighth graders Rob Smith and Tonya Davis seem to be enjoying the Junior High Semi-Formal.

Sharing a laugh, eighth grader Emily Hollinger takes the flower she is to deliver for Teacher Appreciation Week from Mrs. Becky Darrow.

Mrs. Nancy Feagler gives junior high girls instructions on the next Superstars event.

Council honors top JH students

Junior High Student Council, with recommendations from teachers, selected top junior high students as Students of the Week and then named an Outstanding Student of the Month. Honor students got ribbons and a certificate on Honor Day at the end of each nine-week grading period.

JH Student Council also sponsored a mini-version of Superstars with the eighth grade prevailing over the seventh grade and on Friday before spring break a dance, which was open to all high school students. The dance turnout was good despite the fact that many students had already left for vacation.

In April combined candy sales by high school and junior high students went well, raising plenty of money for both student councils.

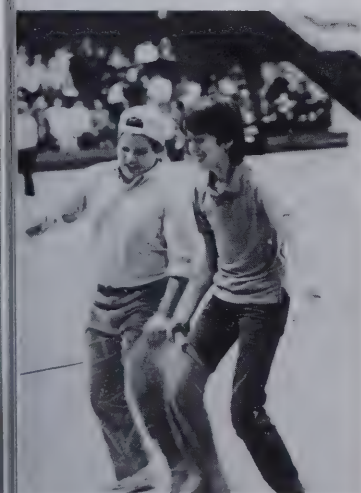

Junior National Honor Society conducted initiation April 9. Before initiation night, the week held many outrageous activities for new members such as 60's day, dress up day, tail day, clash day, and paint your face day. New initiates were eighth graders Cory Andrews, Matt Likes, Julie Malcolm, and Karalee Slabaugh, and seventh graders Cristy Davis, Emily Hollinger, Jon Kruger, Carrie Williams, and Kristi Yingling.

Students in Mrs. Bonnie Miles' 8A English class produced three six-page issues of the JH Express in November, March, and May.

Eighth grader Mark Bergdall did the artwork for a new streamlined masthead for the Express which appeared first in the March issue. Students who served on the Express editorial board for one or more issues were Rob Bell, Wendy Chervenka, Catina Hart, Tim Lemper, Jennifer McClure, Amanda Short, Matt Likes, James Bailey, and Matt Taylor.

At the Junior High Superstars, seventh graders Ed Moutz and Greg Jackson struggle to finish first in the three-legged race.

Keeping score at the Junior High Superstars, Mrs. Aletha Bailey watches the action as Mrs. Becky Darrow reads scores aloud.

Aaron Boyer

Stranded? Stranded on a desert isle with no one around except you and a teacher. A TEACHER? Why in the world would I want a teacher with me, you're thinking! Well, we thought it would be fun to see which teachers seniors would chose and why.

"If I were stranded on a desert isle, I would take . . ."

. . . "any teacher who is smart enough to get me off the island."

—Teresa Smith

. . . "Mr. Stomm, so he could help me turn the island into a resort area and run the business for a big profit."

—Doug Weaver

. . . "Mr. Piatt, because we both love the construction life, and we could build a city."

—Ed Tuttle

. . . "Mr. Andrews, so he could build a boat to get us off the island."

—Melvin Montgomery

. . . "Mr. Beerbower, because as a gym teacher his physical strength might be an advantage."

—Emi Kato

. . . "Mr. Giegold, because he could probably survive longer than someone else."

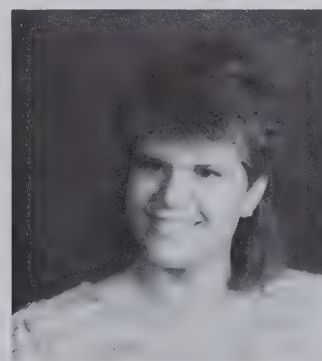

—Tim Rowlett

Relaxing in the teachers' lounge, Mr. Matt Beerbower seems surprised that a senior would like to have him along on a deserted isle.

My most embarrassing moment was . . .

You regret the moment. You wish you could have said or done something else, or better yet, have been somewhere else.

We all have had at least one embarrassing moment like saying the wrong thing at the wrong time. Although some incidents are too embarrassing to think about, we asked the seniors to tell a few of life's most humiliating experiences.

"My most embarrassing moment was . . ."

... "when I wore my jeans with a broken zipper to school and didn't realize it till after school."

—Tim Rowlett

... "when I shot an AIR ball on a free throw at East-side."

—Doug Weaver

... "when I fell down the steps in the commons with a couple of pizzas and a bottle of pop in my hands."

—Mary Feagler

... "when I scored 2 points for the other team in 7th grade."

—Andy German

... "when I ran into Dave Freeman's car and dented it. He then suggested to get it out with a plunger, but it didn't work."

Star light, star bright, First star I see tonight, I wish I may, I wish I might . . . mmmmm what could I wish for?

Ever had this problem? Well, the juniors don't. Here are some responses to the often-repeated verse, "If I could have one wish, I would wish . . ."

... "to be older and be done with school."

—Emily Tuttle clothes and jewelry."

—Nikki Leeper

... "to be rich and buy all kinds of things."

—Sean Nofzinger

... "I was out of college, married and making a lot of money."

—Tom O'Connor

... "I was married to a rich politician, so I could go to elegant parties and have rich

... "I was out of school and making money."

—Lisa Grotrain

... "I was 18 so I could get my poems published."

—Michelle Millet

... "I was rich so I could buy what I wanted when I wanted."

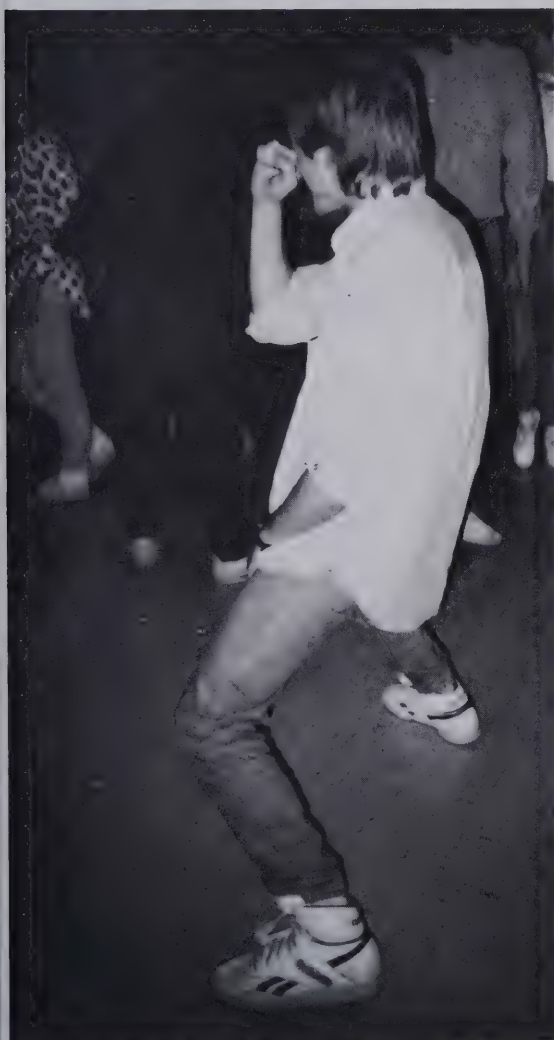

—Dan Weimer

"I wish I was an Oscar Mayer wiener. An Oscar Mayer I would be. Because that is what I'd truly like to be. What? What? It's been done!!"

—Brian Cook

... "to be successful person, married with two kids and rich!"

Sophs choose new homes

Whether you prefer to stroll the beaches of California with the sun in your eyes and the wind in your hair, live on a farm where the air is full of scent of wild meadow flowers, or struggle to keep warm inside your igloo atop the world at the North Pole, it is natural to dream about living elsewhere.

Sophomores came up with some interesting spots when completing the statement:

"If I could live anywhere in the world, it would be ...

... "Bangladesh, so I can see Bazi Dev."

—Jason O'Connor

... "French Riviera, to catch the rays."

—Jerry Egolf

... "Australia; I like the countryside and ocean."

Freshmen wish for new faces

All kids wish they could be somebody else. Who would it be: a famous movie star, model, singer, or politician? Such an exchange would allow one to see what another's life is like.

Bon Jovi, class favorite

As we know, rock groups come and go. You know, here today and gone tomorrow. So we thought we'd ask the class of '91 some of the rock groups they considered to be in and why. The question was,

"Who is your favorite rock group and why?"

"Bon Jovi. I like their style."

TV entertaining for 7th graders

Weeknights to weekends, the perfect thing to do is watch television. Everyone loves to plop down on the

of Class

Business enrollment drops

Decreased enrollment in business classes is a result of new graduation requirements, according to Mr. Larry Stomm, Business Department chairperson.

Ten new electronic typewriters were purchased for typing classes at a cost of $4,000. Business department also bought three electronic memory typewriters for $2,250; these were used for Business Lab. Adoption of new books is scheduled for the 1988-89 school year.

Two new business teachers for the 1986-87 school year were Mr. Matt Beerbower and Mrs. Mary Wolf. Mr. Beerbower taught Keyboarding I, personal typing and seventh grade typing. Mrs. Wolf taught typewriting/production, office machines, basic office service lab and Shorthand I.

Math Department purchased new books for the 1986-87 school year. The committee consisted of Mr. Richard Capin, Mr. Dave Neal, Mrs. Suzon Baker and

A change in the math curriculum gave freshmen the choice of taking general math, pre-algebra or Algebra I. This change was made so students can earn the four math credits required for graduation.

A new teacher in the Math Department was Mr. Jim Alt, who teaches General Math I and General Math II.

Two courses were added to the science class offerings in the area of physical science. This was done to "allow all students to meet new graduation requirements," Mr. Cleo Miller, Science department head, said. These courses will be for average and below average ability students.

The Science Department had only one new teacher, Mr. Alt, who taught physics.

Mr. Miller commented on the fact that the department could use more area for individual student projects and another science room.

Eight hundred dollars was spent for a student laser, laser optics kit and an electronic stopgate for photo electronics.

For the most part it was "business as usual" for the Social Studies Department in 1986-87 with class visits by local attorneys on Law Day and a field trip to the General Assembly in Indianapolis by senior government classes.

New on the social studies scene was Mr. Rick Kirkton's Applied Economics class, which replaced a traditional economics course. Mrs. Lena Yarian, a GHS graduate and representative of Fort Wayne Junior Achievement, served as a consultant for Applied Economics. Goals of this class were for students to develop an understanding of how a business works through a simulated "hands-on" experience, to apply that understanding to the business world, to understand decisions made by business, labor, government, and consumers and the social and economic impact of those decisions.

Working in the chemistry lab, senior Richard Taube masses chemicals.

Enrollment grows in music classes

Increased enrollment in both choral and instrumental music classes highlighted a successful year for the Fine Arts department, according to Mr. Mark Ober, department head.

Band director Paul Marlow reported generally higher contest scores among his students.

Mr. Gary Gerke, choral director, conducted an experiment in teaching sight reading of music by numbers versus solfege to chorus and choral ensemble classes. He used his findings in his master's thesis.

Mr. Ober expressed disappointment after only eight exhibits were entered in the department's annual Art Show, which normally attracts nearly 150 entries. Senior Alan Woehner's acrylic painting, "American Soldier in Vietnam," was selected for the $50 purchase prize award and will hang in the GHS Media Center.

Interesting field trips topped the list of a variety of enrichment activities in the Language Arts department.

Thirty-four freshmen in English classes taught by Mrs. Meg Eastes and Mrs. Jean Frohriep completed their study of Romeo and Juliet by attending the Fort Wayne Civic Theater's production of Shakespeare's play in March.

Mrs. Frohriep also arranged a visit to the genealogy department of the Allen County Public Library for her 10th grade English classes. In April 35 sophomores from three class sections took advantage of this opportunity. Some students completed optional writing assignments following the genealogy field trip.

A visit to the Allen County Public Library, lunch at Johnell's, and a walking tour of downtown Fort Wayne's churches, museums, and botanical conservatory rounded out the field trip itinerary of Mrs. Eastes' English 11 class.

Several members of Mrs. Bonnie Miles' journalism class attended a one-day conference in September at St. Francis College, sponsored by Herff Jones Yearbook Company.

Seventh grade academic English class assisted with orientation of sixth graders by presenting a dramatization of "The 7th Grade Day." This class also wrote and produced an original film script, Pee-wee and the Toy Factory, after an intense study of The Hobbit. Another of Mrs. Grogg's seventh grade classes earned play money to buy suckers and homework coupons by learning and applying grammar rules while playing Grammaropoly.

Fifty-four first, second, and third year students in Mrs. Shirley Wallace's Spanish classes attended "Ballet Folklorico" at the Fort Wayne Performing Arts Center in March.

High School Foreign Language Day at Ball State University was the destination of 17 Spanish II and III students and sophomore Chuck Newman, a student in Mr. Peter Blaettner's German II class. Mrs. Wallace and Mr. Blaettner accompanied these students to Muncie.

A Saturday filled with softball, volleyball, tennis, soccer, and swimming while speaking Spanish attracted 24 GHS students to the Mini Pan Am Games at IU-Purdue Indianapolis campus May 9. Mrs. Wallace also arranged this trip.

As their Spanish I assignments are given, freshmen Pam Thompson, Lisa Leichty, and Adam O'Connor rush to get them completed.

Classes travel

Classes in the Vocational department took a variety of field trips in 1986-87, including visits to Magnovox, Parade of Homes, Allison's Machine Shop, Ivy Tech, Fort Wayne Vocational School, McKee-Miles Funeral Home, and Caprino's.

Many new items were purchased for auto mechanics, drafting, business lab, agriculture and building trades classes. Such items included a hoist, valve grinder stones, a new computer, three typewriters, taps and dies, drill bits, wrenches, a vacuum, router table, saber saw, and extension ladders.

In preparation for the 1987-88 school year, the Vocational department adopted and purchased new textbooks and developed course outlines for new agriculture classes in taxidermy and small animal care.

—Candy Kogin

At the building trades project house junior Ed Mullins and senior Gary Heal cover insulation with drywall.

Setting up for Back to School open house for parents, junior Tina Zimmerman and senior Lori Kobiela place cookies baked by home ec classes on the refreshment table.

Taking great care, seniors Mike Vojtkofsky and Tony Heyman install light fixtures at the building trades house.

Although she seems to be having a bit of trouble threading a sewing machine in crafts class, eighth grader Tonya Davis keeps smiling.

Exterior work on the building trades remodeling project requires junior Ed Mullins and seniors Ed Tuttle and Billy Nodine to use ladders.

Listening and watching intently, freshman Joe Gossett learns about the human eye from Mr. David Wiant, health instructor.

Helping out in the media center, senior Rick Wagner returns audio equipment.

REMC donates new satellite dish

Media Center purchased more than $4,000 of equipment, including a computer and accessories, two VHS recorders, two TVs, reference books, and film projectors. Noble County REMC donated a satellite dish which picks up over 100 stations.

"Use of computers by the students has shown an increase," commented Mrs. Nancy Feagler, librarian.

Guidance department changed scheduling computer system from Tri-State University in Angola to Fort Wayne computers.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Center sent a representative every other week to counsel students with substance abuse problems.

High school counselors who had been alternating classes will stay with the grade they counseled this year. Ms. Joy Kent, high school counselor, explained, "Dividing the classes, I think, allows for better service to the students.

"We're staying with the classes we had because we feel that we lost continuity by switching every year.

"I feel the reason we meet the needs of all the students is because we have three counselors with totally different personalities, and we all get along," she concluded.

Physical Education department hopes to offer two new courses: a weight training class for girls only and Fitness for Life, a semester course for juniors and seniors which will involve activities they can participate in after graduation. Some activities will include tennis, bowling, archery, golf, and rifle range," explained Mr. Dave Wiant, head of Physical Education/Health department.

New books and a new course are the plans of the Health department. "We hope to avoid repeating material in seventh to ninth grade health classes. We would also like to see enough students enrolled in a substance abuse class to get it started," Mr. Wiant summed up.

—Tina Carlin

Special Olympics highlight of year

Highlight of the year for special education students was the Special Olympics international competition which took place in South Bend August 1-8.

Angela Lake earned five medals in gymnastic competition. Her medals included silver in unevens, gold in balance beam, and bronze in vault, all around, and floor competitions.

Among other activities students enjoyed throughout the year were Winter Sports Day and competing in local and state level bowling and track and field events.

Students also took field trips to McMillan Health Center and Franke Park Zoo and volunteered as helpers with the Head Start program.

Mrs. Becky Fekete, special education teacher, said, "In class the students concentrated on learning to be independent. They worked on using money, time concepts, work attitudes, cooking, and work skills."

Sarah Herron completes a simulated work exercise in Mrs. Becky Fekete's class.

Taking a break from working on pegboard designs, J.J. Czaja sits back and relaxes.

Board approves $3,377,775 facilities

Plans to build a high school auditorium and elementary gym were approved by the Garrett-Keyser-Butler School Board in 1986-87. A contract was signed with architects Fanning and Howey, Inc., to construct the new facilities. Cost of the program was set at $3,377,775.

To provide space for the new facilities, the board approved purchasing property on Second Street, adjacent to Ober Elementary building. Before making the decision to build, board members examined school facilities at Carroll, Churubusco, East Noble, Fremont, Huntington, and South Adams Schools.

School board members appointed Mr. James Nixon as principal at Ober Elementary School effective July, 1986.

Mr. Ronald Blotkamp began a four-year term as a board member. Mr. Jerry Weller was re-elected as board president. Also serving on the board were Dr. Richard Dircksen, vice-president; Mr. Richard Lepley, secretary; and Mr. Clayton Teixeira.

Throughout this 1987 Aeolian, we hope to have shown you the many "differences" of Garrett High School. Not just visual differences, but differences in athletics, clubs, staff, classes, community support, and most of all, the differences students make at GHS.

Special thanks are extended to senior Alan Woehnker for the cover design, eighth grader Mark Bergdall for division page artwork, the Auburn Evening Star for the loan of sports photo negatives, and journalism students Tina Carlin, Michelle Anderson, and Candy Kogin for their dedication in finishing the yearbook. Without these people, the 1987 Aeolian would not have been possible.

Also thank you to all of our supporters who purchased ads and prepaid for nearly 450 copies of this yearbook. This type of backing from the community and student body is greatly appreciated.
